March of Dimes Opens Campaign

The March of Dimes is mobilizing for its 30th Anniversary Campaign to fight birth defects.

The last week of January we will need all our friends and neighbors of good will to serve as volunteers in various tasks, said Mrs. Mike Collins, publicity chairman, today.

Birth defects, said Mrs. Collins, disable 1,375,000 children under the age of 6. The March of Dimes conducts intensive programs of public education because it knows that an enlightened public will demand action against birth defects, our nation's second largest destroyer of life.

Each year birth defects strike

3 Hospitals Planned For South Coast Area

Plans for a revolutionary concept of "satellite" hospitals with the prime facility being South Coast Community Hospital were revealed last week by hospital directors.

Each of the "satellite" or "associate" hospitals located in San Clemente, Laguna Niguel, and Leisure World would be complete hospitals. However, costly and exotic equipment, such as these used in open-heart surgery would be provided by the central facility in South Laguna.

Victor Andrews, president of the board of directors called this, "a new concept for hospitals in the United States." The four hospitals will share much equipment, staff, purchasing, and billing, but each associate will be a fine medical structure.

The Leisure World Hospital will be completed within five years. The directors of Leisure World have provided the land and funds for the Laguna Hills Hospital to be built by 1980.

The development program was

EDITORIAL Court Upholds Freedom of Press

The constitutional guarantee for freedom of the press has been upheld by the US Court of Appeals for Washington D.C. in a landmark decision involving the public's right to know.

The Court denied a petition by the Liberty Lobby which attempted to prevent publication of information allegedly taken from their files by an employee and given to national columnist, Drew Pearson.

The impact of this landmark decision rests in its implications that newspaperman like doctors and clergy have a right to protect their confidential sources of information.

Presiding Judge Alexander Holtzoff said, "the courts may not review the manner in which a newspaper man obtains his information," and the implication here is they likewise can not review the person the information was obtained from.

The court interprets the 1st Amendment's clause on freedom of the press to mean the press should not be limited to official sources in finding, writing, and commenting on the news. "If courts were endowed with the power to review the manner in which the press obtains its information and could restrain the publication of news... we would not have a free press, we would have a controlled press."

The Rancho Reporter believes the freedom of the press is the cornerstone of our democracy and any attempt to hamstring this freedom is a serious challenge to our system. Corruption, mal-practice, political favoritism, and lying are evils of our system which are perfectly legitimate targets of a free press in a free society.

Meet Your Neighbor

by Dan C. Wooldridge

Father of five young boys, Richard B. Beane, El Toro real estate salesman, sees this area as an ideal place to provide guidance for raising children.

The Beane's were among the first six families to move into the El Toro Valley. At this time there were so few lights that you couldn't pin-point the area from the freeway.

Mr. Beane and his wife of 18 years, Eleanore moved to California six years ago from Massachusetts. Beane attended Tufts University and Boston University prior to service in the United States Army.

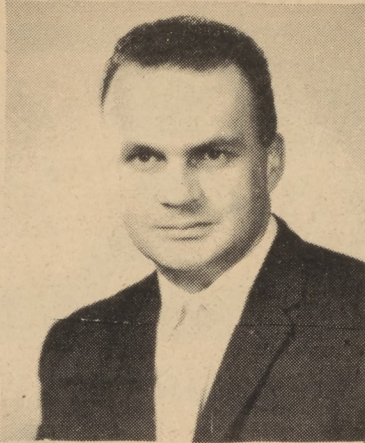

Recently, Mr. Beane joined Unangst Realty, and will be opening up this week a new office in the El Toro Country Store on El Toro Road. Beane hopes to aid the community during this, its rapidly expanding phase during which zoning problems frequently arise.

Beane believes the future of real estate in this area is excellent. Speaking of the tight money situation, Beane believes it can be circumvented without much difficulty in most cases.

Mr. Beane worked for over ten years as a banking executive on the East and West Coasts. Dick joined the Western Real Estate firm of Laguna Beach in late 1962 and served as their only salesman in the El Toro area. Beane personally has sold over $300,000 worth of property in the Laguna North development.

Dick services all types of real estate, but 50% of his business is in the home re-sale market with the remainder falling into trades, land, commercial, and industrial transaction.

The Beane family belongs to St. Nicholas Catholic Church in Laguna Hills.
